Vol. 16, No.1 (February 1987)

Editorial 1
On the difference in reactivity between high- and low-inertinite coals
J.A.R. van Veen (Amsterdam, The Netherlands) and K. King (Chester, Great Britain) 3
The costs of coal liquefaction: influences of technical/economic risk
D.A. Tillman (Bellevue, WA, U.S.A.) 19
Pyrolysis of Mississippi lignite in a fixed bed
D.L. Farage, C.W. Williford, Jr. and J.E. Clemmer (MS, U.S.A.) 35
Steam gasification of oil coke catalyzed by alkali metal hydridotetracarbonylferrates: Effects of alkali metal cations
M. Mishima, T. Suzuki and Y. Watanabe (Kyoto, Japan) 45
The effect of toluene-insoluble fraction of coal on catalytic activities of a Ni–Mo–γ-Al_2O_3 catalyst in the hydrotreating of coal liquids
Y. Yoshimura, K. Hayamizu, T. Sato, H. Shimada and A. Nishijima (Ibaraki, Japan) 55
Effects of solvent composition on coprocessing coal with petroleum residua
C.W. Curtis, K.-J. Tsai and J.A. Guin (Auburn, AL, U.S.A.) 71
The chemical nature of material released from coal-derived asphaltenes by reprecipitation and cyclohexane extraction
C.E. Snape (Cheltenham, Great Britain), K.D. Bartle, I.O. Amaechina and D.G. Mills (Leeds, Great Britain) 89
Meeting Announcement 97

Vol.16, No.2 (April 1987)

A review of sample preparation methods, and analysis of coal derived materials by gas chromatography
J.M. Charlesworth (Ascot Vale, Victoria, Australia) 99
The effect of bed temperature and fluidization velocity on the chemistry of bench scale fluid bed retorting of Kentucky oil shale
A.M. Rubel, E. Davis and L. Tungate (Lexington, KY, U.S.A.) 163
The pyrolysis of bitumen-impregnated sandstone in short contact time reactors, I. Cyclone reactor
L.C. Lin, F.V. Hanson, A.G. Oblad (Salt Lake City, UT, U.S.A.) and J.D. Westhoff (Laramie, WY, U.S.A.) 173
Studies on floatability of macerals of bituminous coals of various coalification degree
B. Bujnowksa (Wrocław, Poland) 191

Vol. 16, No.3 (June 1987)

The conversion of coal to petroleum: its German roots
A.N. Stranges (College Station, TX, U.S.A.) 205
Chemical composition and toxicological activity of liquefaction materials derived from different feed coal ranks
C.W. Wright, E.K. Chess, D.L. Stewart, D.D. Mahlum and D.D. Dauble (Richland, WA, U.S.A.) 227
On "partial" coal conversion by extraction with supercritical H_2O
N. Berkowitz and J. Calderon (Edmonton, Alberta, Canada) 245

Solid state carbon-13 nuclear magnetic resonance study of Canadian coals
D.E. Axelson (Devon, Alberta, Canada) 257
Catalytic activity of coal ash on steam methane reforming and water-gas shift reactions
W.J. Chen, F.R. Sheu and R.L. Savage (Athens, OH, U.S.A.) 279
Developments in the field of pressure gasification of pulverized brown coal in the German Democratic Republic
M. Schingnitz, H. Brandt, F. Berger, P. Göhler and H. Kretschmer (Freiberg, G.D.R.).....289
